A Guide to Packing for Your Holiday

Carry important things. Keep your passport, ticket, and medicine with you.

Follow the rules. Know what you can and can't take on a plane.

Don't pack too much. Staff will check the weight of your case at the airport. You may have to pay extra.

Take a travel adapter plug for your phone charger because other countries use different plugs.

Use a light case. Remember you may have to carry it.

Don't get your clothes dirty. Always put shoes in bags.

Roll your socks. Put them inside your shoes to keep their shape.

Put toiletries in plastic bags to stop spills.

Don't fold clothes. Roll t-shirts and shorts to keep them looking great.

Take extra bags for dirty clothes or to carry shopping.

Put underwear between large items to make the best use of the space.

Don't pack your sunglasses in your case. You will need them when you arrive.

Happy Holidays!

Impossible Summer – Part Two

By Jenny Shaw

14 September

Well, you won't believe how bad my holiday was – the worst I can ever remember. I'm never going anywhere with my parents again.

It all went wrong from the start. Our train to London was due to leave at just before eight thirty so we got to the station at quarter to eight.

After a few minutes a guard showed us the notice board. She said there was a problem. There was no train. Then my dad shouted at the woman. Mum got mad when she heard him. Everybody was looking at us. I felt sick.

But it got worse. It took an hour to find a taxi to take us all the way to the airport. We got there OK but we missed the plane! So we had to have our holiday at home instead.

In Part Three, find out about my holiday plans for next year.
