GUIDE DOGS UK NEEDS YOUR HELP

Ever thought about becoming a Puppy Boarder?

Our boarders care for puppies overnight and at weekends during their training to be guide dogs. You'll have someone helping you while you care for the puppies. The young puppies stay in Early Training for 16 weeks from 12 months old. They then move to another boarder for 10 weeks in Advanced Training.

The puppy needs to be at the training centre on weekdays between 8am and 6pm. Overnight and weekends you will care for, feed and exercise the puppy. During this time, you will support the training given by the training centre. You must also make sure the puppy receives speedy care from a vet if it is hurt or ill.

So, if you're over eighteen, enjoy working with dogs and live in a home with secure outside space, contact us today.

NAME	COMMENT
Remy, Luton	You can't imagine how much I love boarding guide dog puppies. I'm busy at work so caring for a dog just overnight and weekends is perfect! We have great fun getting him to obey and to remember what he's learned.
Jo, Carlisle	I've boarded 34 dogs so far. Loads of different natures! Only one didn't pass the full training. She just couldn't stop being naughty! She wasn't able to finish the training. So Guide Dogs rehomed her in the country with a friend. She settled quickly among their other animals and is much better behaved.
Tandeep, York	I just met the owner of one of the first dogs I boarded. It was music to my ears when I heard how he's helped her stay in her own home. All those muddy floors and chewed toys were so worth it!
Alex, Cardiff	I've always been a Respite Boarder. I help out by taking in dogs for a short time, such as when their owners are ill or perhaps if a trainer needs a break.
Kala, Hastings	Boarding is truly rewarding. I'll carry on till I'm eighty! If you're in a position to help an important cause, do something special and contact Guide Dogs this minute!

2 (a) Which one of these statements is true?

[1 mark]

- A Jo rehomes dogs who fail the training.
- B Kala doesn't board dogs any more.
- C Remy takes his dog to work.
- D Tandeep heard good news from an owner.
